   a. Melissa Ringhausen - Director of Athletics Presentation

Ryan Highfill motioned to open discussion on the Director of Athletics Presentation. Connor Keefe seconded.

Melissa Ringhausen presented from Zoom.

Melissa Ringhausen stated: “Thank you, Amanda, for allowing me to come join your group today and couple things: first of all, I wanted just to introduce myself. I met a few of you, but my name is Melissa Ringhausen. I am the Director of Student Athletics and Recreation back in June of 2020 so I’ve been here for a little over a year, and it’s… I apologize for not being able to or not taking time last year to come to your guys meetings to introduce myself. Obviously, we were all crazy with COVID, and life was very challenging last year, but we are starting to open up and do things getting back to “normal”, and so I wanted to just meet with this group, introduce myself, and then share a couple of things that are going on as well as maybe get some input from all of you or at least kind of share with the group, and then if you guys want to talk amongst yourselves and come up with some ideas so you’d like to share with me another time, that will be fantastic as well. So, just a couple things that are going on with athletics and recreation. Couple things: when I took on this job, obviously I feel like I have two major roles. One major role is managing NCAA varsity sports, and then my other major role is ensuring that our students have the opportunities whether it’s intramurals, club sports, recreation, fitness, student… just student environment, engagement, social aspect, I guess, of students through athletics and those kinds of things that… making sure that we are offering programs that you guys want, that you guys enjoy. And if we need to step back and look at programming, that is something that I’m very interested in doing to make sure that we are progressing with what is popular and what’s out there. So a couple things that we have been working with Amanda on. One of them is: we have extended the fitness center hours, and I don’t know if all of you are aware of that. But I would like you to spread the news. If you are not, just help us with getting that message out there. We’ve been open now for about three weeks… third week going into the extended hours. We’ve had a little bit of an uptick. Each week is a little bit more people utilizing those additional hours, but I’m just not sure if the message is out there that the hours have been extended. So we are now Monday through Thursday opening up at 6:00 AM and then staying open all the way until midnight, and then on Friday, we are 6:00 AM until 11:00 PM, and then Saturday and Sunday are still the traditional hours. So if you just help spread the word on that so we can get that out there. It is kind of a trial basis just to see if the usage is there. If the usage is there, then we absolutely will keep it open. If we don’t have the usage, then that is something we would want to step back and reconsider. So that's one thing that's going on out there. The second thing that is going on out there, and Amanda is serving on this committee, but we have created a committee. It's kind of a… I tried to get a diverse group of individuals together, general student population being represented or Greek Life being represented, student athletes being represented, on creating a student section in games. So one of the things I noticed when coming to S&T was our students didn't have a student section and that's something that I thought might be kind of exciting… another way to generate some exciting… the atmosphere, the engagement at our games, and then the other areas around that is naming that section and so this group of individuals have been hard at work trying to come up with ideas, narrowing those ideas down to a couple different names that we are polling our general student body on right now. So there is a poll out there through I believe the university Instagram and Twitter social media pages. Amanda, have you seen it out there?"

Amanda Aiken stated: "I don't think I personally have come across it. Has anybody seen it yet?"

Melissa Ringhausen stated: "Has anybody seen it out there?"

Amanda Aiken stated: "We have one person so it does exist."

Melissa Ringhausen stated: “One person. So that's where I want your guys help and if we need to extend the polling to just get more student participation in that but we have come here to two names. At this time, one of them is Pickaxe Splatoon would be the name of the student group and then the other one is Miner Maniacs. So those are the two names that have kind of been narrowed down with this committee, and we’ve thrown it out to the general student population, the campus, to see what is more well received. So I like you guys to participate in that, and I will kind of check on that tomorrow to see if that has been put out there and how long it's going to be out there. I think right now we are running it to October 17, but if we need to extend that date, I’m more than happy to do that. So there's another thing that is going on: tailgating and student section. So kind of along that same lines, we are starting to offer up and promote tailgating at football games on Saturdays. We had a fantastic turn out this last Saturday with Homecoming. We had a number of Greek life come and do it with us. We just had a lot of general students that were out there. The area that we are designating is right behind the visitor's bleachers so as you walk up to the entry gate... south of the entry gate of the football field is kind of right there on the grassy section, and we had a number of individuals out there playing music and playing tailgate games, yard games, and those kinds of things. So if you guys are interested in participating in that, that something kind of along the same lines as the general students and the student section that we're trying to promote: increase energy and excitement around it. Right now, we're just trying to get kind of an area designated, get the interest out there, but eventually, and this is where we want some help and I can work with Amanda working with you guys is: how are... what are some things we can do to get more participation whether it's freebies, whether it's competitions between organizations? You know, what are some ways that we can get our students to engage in that and participate? I know we had a lot of fun this last weekend. So that's another thing that we're more working on. Intramural sports: again just something new. I know it's kind of a year of unique COVID hybrid format for intramurals, but just evaluating what your intramural opportunities we are offering. Those are the sports and games that our general students want. Are there other ones we would like to add? Other ones that used to be popular that are starting to drop off and maybe aren't as popular now? So very open to feedback on that. And then the last thing is: we have an idea. So we have four racquetball courts, and we have looked at how much usage those racquetball courts get, and we don't want to remove those from an opportunity to play racquetball, but all four racquetball courts don't get a tremendous amount of usage. So we thought maybe that space could be utilized in a better way. So we are tossing around the idea of... a multi-purpose workout area where there would be... they kind of look like monkey bars but they're like for pullups and various exercises do that where we would actually turf inside the racquetball areas so that you could do prowlers, you can do some different medicine ball workout, it would just be another space in addition to our regular fitness center for people to be able to go in and work out. It's something that Nick White, our Director of Recreation, has seen in other universities and has kind of brought that idea forward, and I know, Amanda, I have shared, I believe a diagram with you of what that would look like and I apologize. I should've had that on a PowerPoint, but maybe just getting some feedback on that if that's something that you think general students would like that addition or something different we want to do for that space or we leave it as a racquetball court if we are okay with that as well."

Amanda Aiken stated: "So if you guys have seen... the 360 workout where there's like bars, there's different weight things, just like things like that. We are looking at potentially putting something similar to what Planet Fitness has with their 360 workout into one of the racquetball courts."

Melissa Ringhausen stated: "But other than those items right now, those are kind of the hot things on the table. I am very open to ideas or thoughts of other things that the general students would like, have access to, or the opportunity to participate or play, or workout, anything along those lines. I would encourage you to either stop by my office hours or share with Amanda, and she can share with me or send me an email. Any of those are fine. I put my email in the shot."

Amanda Aiken stated: "We will make sure that your email is in our minutes, and then also if you guys have any suggestions, feel free to fill out our Say Anything form or bring anything up at [unintelligible] and our Say Anything. It's mring@msst.edu. Does anybody have any questions for Melissa? Alrighty, I'm not seeing anything right now, but thank you very much for coming in and speaking to us tonight. Wish you could be in-person."

Melissa Ringhausen stated: "I know. I'm sorry. Next one. Next meeting, I'll pop my head in and just to show my face."

b. SAFB Campus Event MinerLAN Budget

Chandler Cairatti presented the budget:
https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1a2i-7m_RSd4xjWfuZFE80tqxZB4zfR1vUiTAOborgRc/edit?usp=sharing SAFB recommends funding $257.42 which is 50% of the cost in compliance with SAFB Code.

Zane Stobie motioned to approve the SAFB Campus Event MinerLAN Budget. Ryan Highfill seconded.

Chandler Cairatti stated: “So, tonight we did get a request for… we did get a request for another event coming up. Just to give you guys an idea of how much money we still have in the Campus Events fund, we have about $43,000 left. And this one is for ACM for their MinerLAN event which is an event that they hold before finals. It’s just to give people a break, to destress. There will be video games, board games, other activities, and other prizes for tournaments. SAFB approved and seeing line items weren’t restricted in any way. You can see no issues with any of the line items. They did want to hold it on December 3rd, however they missed the deadline for that by four days. So, instead of six days before, they would have done it six days before. So they were going to do it a week after, but SAFB said that…. as a council decided that's so minimal of a miss. That being said, December 3rd will be fine because it's plenty of time for going over this and approving this to be approved. SAFB’s recommendation is 50% so $257.42 and the initial approval on that is: funds will not be available until the COVID plan is in place with Student Involvement, and we gave them a deadline of that plan within 30 days before the event. That’s just kind of a standard thing we do for our events right now.”

Zane Stobie stated: “If the restrictions have changed on the 15th, will they have to, still, abide by the COVID thing?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “Depending on how the restrictions change, they may be waived. The COVID plan states that whatever Student Involvement would require a COVID plan for events. In terms of not requiring a COVID plan anymore, hey you met that criteria of the fund.”

SAFB Campus Event MinerLAN Budget was approved as presented (92 ayes [91.09%]; 9 nays [8.91%]).

c. SAFB DSF COVID Surplus Reallocation

Chandler Cairatti presented the budget:
https://docs.google.com/spreadsheets/d/1DUUaqmycJbroRMIyXx0K2cfn6P6o8-AaeP6KczSUiqJ8/edit?usp=sharing

All SAFB recommendations are in the spreadsheet link above.
Ryan Highfill motioned to approve the SAFB DSF COVID Surplus Reallocation. Zane Stobie seconded.

Chandler Cairatti stated: “There’s a lot of numbers on this. It’s a lot to dig in so I’ll try to explain the best I can going over what SAFB is requesting. This column shows all of our DSF groups that we have direct control over at Student Council in terms of their money, their allocations every year, things like that. There’s other DSF groups that we make votes on, but we don’t necessarily have as finite control over these groups. With these groups, I show their current balances in their accounts. They are in Column B. They’re end of 2021 fiscal year balances so that’s summer. That’s when the fiscal year ends. What we are looking at here is surplus of money that has been leftover due to COVID cancelling so many different things. Every year, we collect fees. The fees didn’t change. Fees didn’t reduce. You guys still have to pay it. All that money went somewhere and didn’t necessarily get spent. So now a lot of it is just sitting in these accounts. There has been some discussion over whether some people are going to go ahead and start spending some of it in certain ways for their groups. Some groups don’t really have any plans on what to do with it. So SAFB is wanting to make a request to do something with this money. So what we are actually requesting here is a reallocation of funds with the power of SAFB that rarely ever gets used in these times. What that means is we’ll be taking a certain amount of money back and reallocating it for a COVID surplus fund. The use of that COVID surplus fund will be determined at a later date, however there are three main options that have been brought up with StuCo Executive Board. One is to take that money and go ahead spend it as much or all of it as we can on big campus projects that benefit all students whether that’s fixing the Havener Center, things around campus, whatever it may be, more hammock stands, generous Miner maps on campus, or MinerBytes for location things. We can determine that as a group. The second option is something called a capital fund account. I won’t go too much detail into it, but essentially it is an interest-bearing account. Think of it like an endowment where we take the money, use it as seed money, and put it into this account which will gain a certain amount of interest. And every year, depending on what we write in resolution, we will be able to take out a certain amount to use on a project, probably one project, every single year for decades into the future, and that will keep growing so the money that we plot every year will be bigger. So some of it will be larger and larger projects. The third option is to do a mix where we decide: okay, let’s take out this money, allocate this money, and let’s spend this much now and this much will be in the interest-bearing account for future use. The reason why we are doing this is because we want to make sure that the money that is getting paid by students is getting spent on those students. It’s kind of an oxymoron when I’m talking about an interest-bearing account that is going to last for decades. The money will still be used for those students, but it’s a unique opportunity to go ahead and create a new way to benefit students for many many years to come, and we can talk about increasing that pot each year, again like DSF funds; that’s a whole other conversation. But what we are voting on tonight is whether or not we want to take this money, the amount of money we are going to take, and we’ll apply it to a project at a later date if we decide to vote on it tonight.”

??? stated: “So will you be taking a fixed amount from everyone or is it going to be based on [unintelligible]?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “I will go into that. Okay, so there’s two colors here. I will start with the lighter purple first. This will be easier to explain. Generally, Student Involvement likes to see about 10% rollover from these large groups. These large groups don’t have as many restrictions as all the smaller groups mainly because of the amount of things that they do for this campus covers a very very large spending.
So, they have less restrictions on what they can do with the money, but there are a lot more scrutinized. So what we... after pre-COVID, costs, total costs, we have 10% overage allowance saying that, if COVID wasn’t going on right now, this is the overage we want to see in our accounts between our semester or academic year. As, again, when we will be receiving more money right as the academic year starts. And that’s what these 10% allowances represent right here. This column is based on what’s happening right now. So Fall 2021 income, that’s what’s on the deposit of student fees this semester. This is the expected amount to be deposited next semester. These are the expected income plus the rollover numbers, so what was rolled over. So that’s basically how much money is going to get into these accounts this year. And then this is about how much they estimated in expenses with the DSF allocation for last year. So this is more of a straight surplus; this is the exact surplus they have in their accounts, give or take. SAFB then looked at these two different numbers. If the 10% allowance, coverage allowance, results in a smaller surplus left, we recommended taking out the smaller surplus, the smaller number. That way we believe, minding with people, to still have a little bit of attrition because we like to see attritions. However, we also lowered some people even more. Groups like SUB, they actually went ahead and spent some of that surplus money they had in the most recent concert that was supposed to happen in some of the COVID semesters. They were finally able to do so, so they went ahead and did it. So now there are some plans to spend some of that money; we kind of reduced that. The number that SAFB is recommending to take out is $265,000. This is how much surplus was left. That means we will be leaving $101,303.60 in surplus for the groups to still use. So it’s completely up to us, so at this point: you guys, to determine if we want to go and take out this money and go ahead and start using it on large campus projects, to create an interest-bearing account for decades of projects, or you go mix, or leave it where it’s at, let the groups use things to... let groups decide how to spend the surplus. There are some things to take note. Our concern with leaving a bunch of surplus in the accounts is that budgets get inflated from that. So, these surpluses will last for a couple of years, in most cases. So, after the surplus is gone, they won’t be receiving that much money, therefore the inflated budgets are going to look like the norm at that point, and we don’t want to get to the point where it looks like we’re just slashing money four years or three years from now. So we want to be a little bit cautious with that. There is a point to remember, too. Enrollment took a big hit this year; we are actually receiving less money than expected. Estimations for... so far for recommendations for next year is a reduced enrollment as well. So we are leaving some rollover as cushions for that. Ideally, a group spends all of their money every single year because they are about to receive another section of money every single year. And that’s generally the idea behind this. So are there any questions over any of that that I just talked about?

Shreyas Mocherla, India Association stated: “I just want to know: we have certain events planned out in the coming semesters and months. So, if we do plan to take out money for the group, is there a way we can decide if we can pull certain amounts to our budget?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “If we left money in the accounts, in terms of what general clubs will be requesting, we’ll probably release that money slowly because, again, we don’t want clubs to think we have a lot more money than what we already have because we don’t want you guys start to building budgets that are way more than what we can actually afford. So we kept it with, specifically, Club Appropriations which covers two hundred something clubs. We’d be releasing that surplus very slowly over semesters, but right now this is the overall thing, so we’re talking about the Club Appropriations account as a whole. Campus Events account: SAFB chose to leave the surplus there because in that case, we’re wanting to try to jump start Campus Events again or wanting to spend a little extra money to get things back to normal. And that was a decision we made as a whole. The Club Appropriations account, we left a little bit there, again, to try to inject a little bit of surplus to get you guys going again, but we didn’t want to leave it all because, again, it can be spent on some big projects right now instead of being spent over four or five years. Or we put it into an interest-bearing account that will keep giving us money every single year or decades or however long we keep that account.”

Shreyas Mocherla, India Association stated: “Right. So, we have a surplus that’s inflation just for the clubs. Is that right?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “The Club Appropriations account, yes.”

Amanda Aiken stated: “So this is only the big organizations from the big pot. It wouldn’t affect your specific organization and your pot, but it would affect Club Appropriations as a whole.”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “There will be less money in the pot, but we were [unintelligible] all right away, you can.”

Shreyas Mocherla, India Association stated: “So that could be distributed over clubs?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “Yes. Over many many years, the groups take what’s going to be left in that pot. Because, again, we don’t want to give you guys the idea that we have… the view that we have a lot more money than we normally do. Right now, we have about… here’s our surplus. We have almost half a million dollars and money that we normally don’t have. So that’s a lot of inflation. Think of it as inflation.”

Shreyas Mocherla, India Association stated: “I just need to know how I can keep a budget or something for my club?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “There’s always money in Club Appropriations. That doesn’t change. You’ll still get money for your club. That’s not going to change. We’re not emptying these accounts. We’re cutting off the excess money. This account, Club Appropriations, has money put into it this year… this semester and your money into it next semester. It’s not going to shrink; it’s going to keep growing like it always does, but clubs are going to start picking back up again and take funding out of it whereas over COVID we had… normally we see about twenty to thirty clubs request money from Club Appropriation account each semester. Over COVID, we were lucky if we saw five. There’s a lot of extra money.”

Shreyas Mocherla, India Association stated: “That answered my question. Thank you.”

Amanda Aiken stated: “Again, it really only majorly affect the big organizations that are listed on this screen are… in Column A are the only ones to see major reductions right now in their surplus. It won’t really be the smaller organizations that most of you guys represent, the original RSOs.”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “And it doesn’t affect anything that they plan to do for this year unless they plan to do anything extra. Again, that’s extra. Their normal operations will not be affected. If they repeated the amount they requested in their reports [unintelligible].”

Anisa Ripp, SUB stated: “I’m just wondering. Are you working with DSF groups to plan that money?”
Chandler Cairatti stated: “The thing is: our SAFB money: show me a plan of that money that we grant you guys to have in DSF allocations. You have surplus. You can make plans around that, but don’t be surprised if the surplus disappears is what usually happens.”

Anisa Ripp, SUB stated: “So will you be working with us more extensively?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “If you already spent it and you don’t have that amount left of surplus, yes, we will talk to you. However, that surplus money that SAFB does has the power to take back, with GenBod approval, and reallocate.”

Austin Wall, MAL stated: “To build off of what I’m going to be asking: have you talked to all of these groups that are affected by this? Do you have any objections or plans to use that surplus?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “That is what this meeting is for.”

Austin Wall, MAL stated: “I wasn’t sure if you have talked to these groups before making this plan or…”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “I tried to talk to these groups as much as I possibly can, but I am only one person. I don’t necessarily have the time to keep on schedule with all of this stuff that [unintelligible], so it is generally expected that they should have representatives in the general body meeting. That is their time to give their side of the story.”

??? stated: “Where do design teams fall under this?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “Design teams actually ended up under Professional Projects. And design teams are one of the only groups that didn’t really see a negative impact with COVID. They’re able to go to the Design Center, opened with limitations, but design teams still competed virtually, still spent money, and they’re generally underfunded anyway that their surplus is actually negative and we’re not giving them money. These totals don’t take into account anything that is below zero. SAFB is not giving anyone extra money.”

Austin Wall, MAL stated: “So if we approve this, that this money is put aside into a separate account, then will we decide what happens to it later?”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “Yes. It will more than likely be set aside on paper and be set aside onto accounts we won’t be aware of why the money isn’t there anymore or it will all be shoved into the StuCo account that StuCo is not allowed to touch without StuCo saying we can touch for very specific reasons. Again, to be decided after we decide if we want to move forward with this or not.”

Austin Solvie, ΦΚΦ stated: “Can we vote on this next StuCo meeting or no?”

Amanda Aiken stated: “That was going to be my suggestion. If you guys are interested, we can table this discussion further so you can take it back to your organizations and get more questions or discussions with the DSF groups. Most of you knew this was coming, but we still have a couple of questions about that. If you guys would like to have a motion, you can choose to table or choose to vote now.”
Chandler Cairatti stated: “I will say, too, next general meeting is going to be the open forum over DSF as a whole. It will be beneficial to see where the money is going to be next year in the forum. This is what came up now if the conversation [unintelligible].”

Austin Solvie, ΦΚΦ stated: “Is this publicly available?”

Amanda Aiken stated: “It will go out in the minutes.”

Austin Wall, MAL stated: “I would personally feel more comfortable approving this if the plan for what’s going to be used for are... existed. I don’t want to say to put this money aside in purgatory until some amount is tapped later.”

Amanda Aiken stated: “So what we discussed with this fund would be the... every year, we have our general body choose a couple of projects and then ultimately we would decide what the big project is going to be. So say we wanted a pavilion at the end of Havener lawn for student organizations if needed. Then, we can choose to fund that project as a general body and put it into place so it’s just different things that students feel versus maybe not. So, we would choose the projects out of that fund.”

Chandler Cairatti stated: “That is the plan for this.”

Austin Wall, MAL stated: “So, capital fund. Is that an option?”

Candler Cairatti stated: “Either way, the surplus money is going towards campus improvement projects. It’s just how we...”

Amanda Aiken stated: “So it’s whether or not we want to put all of that in the interest-bearing fund so that it can grow so that we can do bigger projects in the future or whether or not we want to turn around and spend it at this time.”

??? stated: “Will there be a way to change numbers?”

Amanda Aiken stated: “Yes. So all of that can be discussed at the DSF Forum. If you want to take it back to your organizations to get a little bit more information, then we can bring it back and change some of those numbers as well.”

??? stated: “Is there any way that this can be put in writing of the directionality of this?”

Amanda Aiken stated: “Yes, we can write something for this.”

Ryan Highfill motioned to postpone SAFB DSF COVID Surplus Reallocation until next meeting. Austin Wall seconded. SAFB DSF COVID Surplus Reallocation was postponed until the next meeting.

Austin Wall, MAL stated: “Do you happen to know what the current vaccination rate is?”

John Gallagher stated: “I do.”

Amanda “It is about 65%?”

John Gallagher stated: “Very close to 65%. And that is… that’s what has been reported through the student health system. If you or somebody you know doesn’t have their vaccine card entered yet, by gosh, this is the last week to win a prize so they get a $5,000 scholarship. Why not you or maybe your roommate get vaccinated? Help us get those numbers up because, honestly, the more we know about our student body, the more confidence we can have as we’re talking about how we [unintelligible].”

Martin De La Hunt, RCHA stated: “When it comes to room capacity, how does that apply to classes?”

John Gallagher stated: “The room capacity is big, [unknown] said we can be up to 50% without an exception on file. It goes through the curator acceptance committee that determines whether or not the room is beyond the limits. Out of necessity, the academic operation committee said no. That’s why we have a mask requirement no matter what the capacity of the class. We physically offer the courses we need to offer in any of the spaces that we have, if we have social distancing and have 25% capacity, whatever number it was earlier. Courses do not fit for that. So, campus already have been evaluated and said no.”

Kaylee Schafer, Panhellenic Council stated: “Is it possible to have meetings in a large space?”

John Gallager stated: “I hope so.”

Amanda Aiken stated: “We’re like: yeah, this is perfect for the meetings. I gave them the numbers and apparently that’s not correct. You have to join our Engage page to update that.”

Austen Solvie stated: "Is there a number of students that we need to fill out that [yearbook survey] or for the data to be actually usable?"

Chandler Cairatti stated: "Preferably if we can get it as close as possible to our normal opinion surveys are at the end of the year which is 1,000 students, that would be great. If I get into the ballpark of 2,000 to 3,000, that's even better. It will help us make the best recommendation possible around our concerns around certain DSF groups."

Amanda Aiken stated: "So when you guys receive the link in your minutes [https://forms.gle/1Fzv9LrhEev6US7v5], please forward that along to your organizations. That would really really help us. Also, keep an eye out in the GroupMe for GroupMes. It will be posted there. It will go out to all the design teams in the Discord. And as for everyone, check with your friends and remind your roommates to fill it out."

Chandler Cairatti stated: "It will be in the eConnection; it will be in the email sent out, so yeah."

??? stated: "Does the deadlines include for next semester?"

Chandler Cairatti stated: "Campus events has a unique deadline. The deadline for any event is 60 days before your planned date. If the event falls under the first 60 days of the semester, so the first 60 days of spring semester, you have to apply with the last before the last 40 days of this semester. I think it is already on the website: https://safb.mst.edu. If it's not, I'll make sure it's tonight."

Amanda Aiken stated: "And we will also make sure that that information is in the minutes as well."

Chandler Cairatti stated: "Next Monday is the last day to apply for any event this semester. That would also mean it would be at the very end of the semester."

- Discord perms- WIP

Austin Solvie, ΦΚΦ stated: “How are you deciding on the Discord bot?”

Zane Stobie stated: “The Discord bot is just simply to give out permissions for if you are a design team member or SAFB member or specific student government executive board members to see different channels. Once I get that configured, there might be a role bot that’s available online and change the coding to make sure that it’s applicable for anyone. Say you click a role. If you are a RSO representative, you automatically get access to these channels.”

Austin Solvie, ΦΚΦ stated: “Is that very secure to have the automatic access?”

Zane “Yeah. It’s just to assign roles. Yeah. It’s usually within the channels that is confidential that will find some way to be able to make it more secure. It’s just more of a way to easier communicate to the rest of your RSO members, to the rest of Student Council. Let’s say you have a question about a deadline for Campus Events. You forgot it was 60 days in advance. That’s the main form of communication. I know SAFB does their meetings there every week. So, it’s a way for people to connect better without having to send a load of emails about the same thing.”

Amanda Aiken stated: “And then if you guys do have any suggestions if you are some Discord guru, feel free to reach out to Zane. This is new to all of us so…”

Austin Solvie, ΦΚΦ stated: “ACM-W had, last year, used a Discord bot for trivia thing. Maybe they would have some knowledge on it and it would actually DM people, and I see another bot where you can do email verification so you know it’s an actual student and not some random bot that is in the Discord.”
Zane Stobie stated: “That is very good to know. Reach out to the ACM or if you just want to reach out to me directly, I am more than happy to contact you about that. My email is wstobie@mst.edu and I am more than happy to talk to you about it there.”

7. Say Anything

Seth Crawford, CCF stated: "I got a Google Form about Campus Mask Policy survey. Is that something that was officially sent out?"

Amanda Aiken stated: "So that is something that our groups decided to do informally just because I have meetings with the Provost and inner Student Council and, I don’t know, another group of people. Everyone was saying the mask mandate is expiring and nobody had any idea about how students felt about that. Asking around, I know a lot of people have different opinions. So that information we collected about 300 people respond which is pretty great for being informal. We will pass that information along to the Provost and the Student Curators and Dr. Goodman, who has been in charge of all of our protocols here. So hopefully when the mandate expires, you will see some of your opinions reflected on that."

Seth Crawford, CCF stated: "Is that closed, though?"

Amanda Aiken stated: "I believe that is still open and we will be accepting all the way out until the 14th. Probably, we won’t be [unintelligible] campus until the day before. If you guys do have opinions on that, I know it was sent out in the GroupMe for GroupMes twice and I could definitely send that out again tonight.”

Shreyas Mocherla, India Association stated: “Could you send it out again, please?”

Amanda Aiken stated: “I will put it in the minutes. I will also post it in the GroupMe for GroupMes tonight.”

Austen Solvie, ΦΚΦ stated: “Can that notification that goes off be muted? There’s like a notification that goes off in the email. It’s just…”

Amanda Aiken stated: “Yeah. That’s just… there you go.”

Austen Solvie, ΦΚΦ stated: “Okay. Thank you.”

Ryan Juergens, ChemE Car stated: “I’ve played racquetball in those courts occasionally that you were talking about, and I think when you go through and get rid of one of them for that 360 thing, I think the rest of that needs to be renovated as well. I have played with, occasionally, popped tiles off the floor, and I do know there’s at least one person who has twisted ankles from that because one of the tiles was popping off the floor.”

Amanda Aiken stated: “Definitely. I will bring that up with her.”
