Advisor

John Gallagher reported:

- Mask guidance:

Several RSOs have asked whether or not they can require masks as a condition of participation in club activities. It has been determined a student organization which considers and adopts a clearly stated expectation through their constitutional processes may establish a mask requirement for participation. They may establish consequences for not wearing, but such consequences should be construed as reasonable to an outside observer. Contact gallagherjo@mst.edu with any questions.

- Very important for ALL graduate students to take this survey

8. Say Anything

??? stated: “Please be respectful to everyone while we're having these discussions because we are all in the same boat, and it's not a good time, and you should all respect that out of each other and not be rude or mean. That's all."

Amanda Aiken stated: “All right, thank you very much. Anything else for Say Anything?”

??? stated: “Do you have [unintelligible] spacing?”

Amanda Aiken stated: “Yes, I did request it to be a little bit more spaced out. I guess this is just the theater setup that comes with it, but next time we actually won't be in this room. We will be over in BCH because apparently this room is taken. I think we are in 125?

Arnold Nguyen stated: “125, yes.”
Amanda Aiken stated: “125. So everyone should be a little bit more spaced out in there and you'll have like the table in front of you and everything so sorry for the confusion and the switching of rooms, but as the COVID numbers and allowances change, so do our spaces. Anything else for Say Anything?”

Amelia Martinez stated: “I know that me and some other organizations had some issues with attendance in the first couple weeks. I know I missed the first two meetings because I, you know, just wasn't aware of them. I was not on Engage yet. I asked to have my first meeting absent struck because in your first section it says that all meetings that were not notified of your absence within two weeks are excused and Arnold denied that after I discussed it with him over email. So I would just like to have that strike so that way we have extra leeway in our attendance and so that we don't lose any of our [unintelligible].”

Amanda Aiken stated: “You should have received an email from Arnold about that scenario. We will work on that. We did resolve that issue specifically. If you guys do have any other strange things with attendance, please let us know. We know that Zoom calls were not the easiest for the first couple of meetings. Anything else for Say Anything?”
